History

Catholic Social Services (CSS) was established in 1966 to compassionately serve the poor and those in need, strengthen individuals and families, and advocate for social justice.

CSS operates 10 multi-faceted programs that include three emergency shelters, two homes for teens, a food pantry, transitional housing, an adoption and pregnancy support program, services for children with disabilities, and a refugee resettlement & immigration program.

In 1985, McAuley Manor, (inspired by Catherine McAuley founder of the Sisters of Mercy) was established to serve teenage girls for whom living with their family was no longer an option.

In 2001, Charlie Elder House (named for a philanthropic oil-industry pioneer) opened to serve teenage boys facing similar situations.

TEEN HOMES

McAuley Manor and Charlie Elder House provide a therapeutic, healthy, family-like atmosphere of compassionate support. The program enables each teen to complete high school, obtain employment, and develop the necessary life skills to live independently.

Each home has an on-site house parent, around-the-clock staffing, case managers and access to counseling services. Each home can accommodate up to 5 teens.

Residents are encouraged in their studies, sports and after-school activities. The teens learn basic life and domestic skills, such as developing healthy relationships, building a strong work and social ethic, budgeting and coping successfully with the transitions and challenges that are a normal part of adolescence.
